 - xi. Providing third parties with statistical information about our users (but those third parties will not be able to identify any individual user from that information);
 - xii. Dealing with inquiries and complaints made by or about you relating to our website;
 - xiii. Keeping our website secure and preventing fraud;
 - xiv. Verification of compliance with the terms and conditions governing the use of our websites (including monitoring private messages sent through our private messaging service); and
 - xv. Other uses.
- b. If you submit personal data for publication on our website, we will publish and otherwise use that information in accordance with the license you grant to us.
 - c. Your privacy settings can be used to limit the publication of your information on our website and can be adjusted using the privacy controls on this website.
 - d. Without your express consent, we will not provide your personal data to any third parties for the direct marketing of their or any other third party's products.

4) Disclosure of personal data

- a. We may disclose your personal data to any of our employees, officers, insurers, professional advisers, agents, suppliers, or subcontractors as reasonably necessary for the purposes set out in these principles.
- b. We may disclose your personal data to any member of our group of companies (i.e., our subsidiaries, our ultimate holding company and all its subsidiaries) as reasonably necessary for the purposes set out in these principles.
- c. We may disclose your personal data:
 - i. to the extent that we are required to do so by law;
 - ii. in connection with any ongoing or prospective legal proceedings;
 - iii. in order to establish, exercise, or defend our legal rights (including providing information to others for the purposes of fraud prevention and reducing credit risk);
 - iv. to the buyer (or prospective buyer) of any business or asset which we are (or are contemplating) selling; and
 - v. to any person who we reasonably believe may apply to a court or other competent authority for disclosure of those personal data where, in our opinion, such court or authority would be reasonably likely to order the disclosure of those personal data.
- d. Except as provided in these principles, we will not provide your personal data to third parties.

5) International data transfers

- a. The data we collect may be stored, processed, and transferred between any of the countries in which we operate in order to use them in accordance with these principles.
- b. The data we collect may be transferred to the following countries which do not have data protection laws equivalent to those applicable in the European Economic Area: United States of America, Russia, Japan, China, and India.
- c. Personal data that you publish on our website or submit for publication on our website may be available on the internet worldwide. We cannot prevent the use or misuse of such information by others.
- d. You expressly agree to the transfers of personal data described in this Section 5).

6) Retention of personal data

- a. In this Section 6), we set out our data retention policies and procedure, which are designed to help ensure that we comply with our legal obligations regarding the retention and deletion of personal data.
- b. Personal data that we process for any purpose or purposes shall not be kept for longer than is necessary for that purpose or those purposes.
- c. Notwithstanding Section 6) b, we will delete personal data that fall into the categories specified below at the date and time mentioned below:
 - i. personal data will be deleted within two years.
- d. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this Section 6), we will retain documents (including electronic documents) containing personal data:
 - i. to the extent that we are required to do so by law;
 - ii. if we believe that the documents may be relevant to any ongoing or prospective legal proceedings; and
 - iii. in order to establish, exercise, or defend our legal rights (including providing information to others for the purposes of fraud prevention and reducing credit risk).

7) Security of your personal data

- a. We will take appropriate technical and organizational measures to prevent the loss, misuse, or alteration of your personal data.
- b. All personal data you provide will be stored on our secure servers (protected by password and firewall).
- c. All electronic financial transactions entered through our website will be encrypted.
- d. You acknowledge that the transmission of information over the internet is inherently insecure, and we cannot guarantee the security of data sent over the internet.
- e. You are responsible for keeping the password you use for accessing our website confidential; we will not ask you for your password (except when you log in to our website).
- f. We implement reasonable security measures to protect the data you provide from unauthorized access. However, no method of transmission or storage is entirely secure, and while we strive to protect your data, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

8) Changes

- a. We may occasionally update these policies by posting a new version on our website. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you understand all changes to these policies. We may notify you of changes to these policies by email or through private messages on our website.

9) Your rights

- a. You can instruct us to provide you with any personal data we hold about you. Provision of such information will be subject to the following:
 - i. payment of a fee of 1000 CZK; and
 - ii. the presentation of appropriate evidence of your identity (for this purpose, we usually accept a photocopy of your passport certified by a notary and an original copy of a utility bill showing your current address).
- b. To the extent permitted by law, we may withhold the personal data you request.
- c. You can instruct us at any time not to process your personal data for marketing purposes.
- d. In practice, you will usually either explicitly agree in advance to our use of your personal data for marketing purposes, or we will provide you with an opportunity to opt out of the use of your personal data for marketing purposes.

10) Third-party websites

- a. Our websites contain hyperlinks to third-party websites and details about them. We have no control over, and are not responsible for, the privacy policies and practices of third parties.

11) Updating information

- a. Please let us know if the personal information that we hold about you needs to be corrected or updated.

12) Cookies

- a. Our website uses cookies. A cookie is a file containing an identifier (a string of letters and numbers) that is sent by a web server to a web browser and is stored by the browser. This identifier is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. Cookies can be either "persistent" or "session" cookies. Persistent cookies will be stored by the browser and remain valid until their set expiry date unless deleted by the user before the expiry date. Session cookies, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session when the web browser is closed. Cookies do not typically contain any information that personally identifies a user, but personal information that we store about you may be linked to the information stored in and obtained from cookies. On our website, we use both session and persistent cookies.

- b. The names of the cookies we use on our website, and the reasons for their use, are specified in Attachement 1 below.
- c. Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies – for instance:
 - i. in Internet Explorer (version 10), you can block cookies using the cookie handling override settings available by clicking on "Tools", "Internet Options", "Privacy", and then "Advanced";
 - ii. in Firefox (version 24), you can block all cookies by clicking on "Tools", "Options", "Privacy", selecting "Use custom settings for history" from the drop-down menu, and unticking "Accept cookies from sites"; and
 - iii. in Chrome (version 29), you can block all cookies by accessing the "Customize and control" menu, then "Settings", "Show advanced settings", and "Content settings", and then under "Cookies" select "Block sites from setting any data".
- d. Blocking all cookies will have a negative impact on the usability of many websites. If you block cookies, you will not be able to use all the features on our website.
- e. You can delete cookies already stored on your computer – for instance:
 - i. in Internet Explorer (version 10), you must manually delete cookie files (instructions can be found at <http://support.microsoft.com/kb/278835>);
 - ii. in Firefox (version 24), you can delete cookies by clicking on "Tools", "Options", and "Privacy", then selecting "Use custom settings for history", clicking "Show Cookies", and then "Remove All Cookies"; and
 - iii. in Chrome (version 29), you can delete all cookies by accessing the "Customize and control" menu, then "Settings", "Show advanced settings", and "Clear browsing data", and then select "Delete cookies and other site and plug-in data" before clicking "Clear browsing data".
- f. Deleting cookies will have a negative impact on the usability of many websites.
